

Senior Project Manager – Baton Rouge

Duplantis Design Group is actively looking to add a Senior Project Manager to our growing civil engineering Baton Rouge Office with an emphasis in private site development projects. The Civil Engineering Senior Project Manager is responsible for overall supervision of commercial, industrial, municipal, and various other civil design projects. The Senior Project Manager's focus will be providing utmost satisfaction to the client aligning with Duplantis Design Group's core values. The Senior Project Manager will require all projects are completed within the allocated schedule and budget provided. The Civil Engineering Senior Project Manager is expected to operate projects with a certain degree of autonomy using staff and resources available within DDG's offices to provide the client with the highest quality of services. The Senior Project Manager shall be familiar with project development from preliminary design to development of construction plans to jurisdictional permitting to completion of construction activities. Experience with client coordination and communication will be a fundamental characteristic for the prospective Senior Project Manager.

Qualifications:

- Registered Professional Engineer (preferred)
- 5 – 10 years of experience (min.)
- Preferably some experience with site development projects.
- Ability to lead a team

Please visit <http://duplantisdesigngroup.com/careers/> for more information and to apply.